Call for submissions

for the ISSRC Policy, Practice and Engagement Award 2021

About the award

- ⇒ This award is open to practitioners who have recently undertaken innovative or significant practice and engagement pertaining to rural crime / rural crime responses
- ⇒ Note: For the purpose of this award, a practitioner is an individual, group or organisation actively engaged in the innovation and/or implementation of policy aimed at addressing crime in rural communities broadly speaking
- ⇒ The nominee/s can be self-nominated, or nominated by other persons with the nominee's permission
- ⇒ Nominations may focus on a specific policy initiative or aggregate efforts over-time
- ⇒ Nominees/nominators should write a submission (1500 words maximum) which responds to several criteria, outlining the contribution of their initiative to rural criminology
- ⇒ Nominees/nominators may also include additional material in their applications which evidences or contextualises the initiative(s) and impacts (i.e. outreach material, media coverage, public engagement etc)
- ⇒ Previous applicants are eligible to apply in subsequent years

Evidence of contribution (up to 1500 words)

- ⇒ A brief outline of the initiative(s) (i.e. aims, those involved etc.)
- ⇒ Evidence of outputs/outcomes generated by the policy, practice and engagement
- ⇒ Statement/evidence of the significance of the policy, practice and engagement
- ⇒ Statement/evidence of the individuals/teams/organisations role in developing, advancing and/or implementing the initiative(s) to address crime in rural communities
- ⇒ An up-to-date resume

The award recipient will receive:

- ⇒ A certificate commemorating the achievement
